

TAKING L.A. BY STORM

Take the health of the Bay into your own hands.

Tell the Regional Water Board to stand strong on pollution regulations.

The Los Angeles Regional Water Quality Control Board is now being lobbied to weaken hard-won regulations that require cities and dischargers to control runoff pollution. The Board will soon issue a new stormwater permit that could result in dirtier water and a higher risk of getting sick at your favorite beach.
